On Tuesday, February 3rd, [redacted] came to my office at 4:05p.m. to report an incident that took place in her classroom that afternoon. She shared that after an meeting concluded and as staff were leaving the room, Maggie Goldman remained behind and approached her.

At the time, students had begun returning from specials and support staff were assisting them with packing up for dismissal. Support staff in the room ensured that students remained near the doorway area, and to [redacted] knowledge, students did not witness or hear the interaction.

According to [redacted] the nitiated a conversation regarding that occurred at her home the previous day. When [redacted] explained that she was not aware of the situation and reminded the that all staff are the became visibly upset.

During [redacted] initial reporting to me, she expressed that the pointed her finger at her face and raised her voice, as the repeatedly asked her if she [redacted] stated that she was on one side of her desk and was on the other during this exchange. Feeling unsafe, [redacted] stepped back and attempted to disengage from the conversation while directing the to speak with administration. The eventually exited the classroom.

On Wednesday, February 4th, I received an email from [redacted] at 10:38pm further detailing the incident. In that email [redacted] stated the used profanity and that she felt uncomfortable and unsafe. I later met with [redacted] on Thursday, February 5th at 4:00pm to gather additional details and to discuss next steps to support her and ensure a safe environment moving forward.

I also met with the three staff members who were present in the room at the time of the incident to obtain their statements. All three confirmed that an interaction between the and [redacted] did occur; however, none of them heard the conversation, and they reported that the students did not hear it either.

Subject: Follow Up Goldman Incident - Feb. 3

Good evening,

I wanted to reach out regarding the incident involving Ms. Goldman in my classroom yesterday afternoon.

Before the incident, we had meeting to review with [redacted] and [redacted] present, along with Ms. Goldman. After the meeting, as people were leaving the classroom, Ms. Goldman stayed behind and approached me. The students were returning from P.E. and had entered the room. [redacted] and [redacted] were helping the students pack for dismissal.

Ms. Goldman then asked whether I was available for a phone call after school, and I let her know I would not be (she had previously contacted me once on Monday evening, asking to talk, but I did not respond until yesterday morning). I asked her if she needed my assistance and apologized for not responding sooner. At this point, she began to tell me that she was upset because on Monday and spoke with her about a call they had received about . She asked me if I knew any information abou on Monday, and I responded that I did not know about the situation and that everyone in the building is a I then told her she could talk to you about the protocol to gather information. After this response, she became visibly angry. She started yelling, "How dare anyone from this school think so low of us to ! Was it you? Was it you? Did you do this to us?" I reiterated that I did not have information about the and that she should contact you. She then yelled, "It had to be someone in this room who did it! I thought we had a better relationship than that. Was it fing you? Was it f*ing you that did it? You called them, didn't you?" At this point, she was moving closer towards me and had her finger in my face. Because I felt unsafe, I took a step back and continued to direct her to you and repeated that I could not help her. She continued to yell at me using the same words as before. I stopped responding and continued to back away towards the bookshelf behind my desk. She then walked out of my classroom. While this occurred, the students were in the classroom packing up and getting ready for dismissal. To my knowledge, no students saw or heard the incident because [redacted] and [redacted] saw the incident occurring from across the room and kept them near the doorway and backpack area.

After I got my students to the bus for dismissal, I went to the administrative suite. As I had asked Ms. Goldman to speak with you, I went to see Ms. Morris to share what had just happened and to let her know that the incident made me feel unsafe. I then returned to my classroom. I went to work in my classroom after talking with Ms Morris because I knew you were speaking with Ms Goldman out front. After working in the classroom, I came back up front to speak with you to share what happened and also ensure you were aware that the incident made me feel really unsafe.

present. You agreed that it was a feasible next step. I also asked if you could talk with Ms. Goldman about this incident in my classroom, and you said that you would communicate to her that this type of interaction with me was not appropriate to do at Barnwell.

First, thank you for agreeing to take the steps above. Next, with all of these things in consideration, I wanted to know the following:

- Is there any update on how your conversation with Ms. Goldman went?
- If this situation or a similar one is to occur, what would you all like me to do differently in the moment?
- At this point in the school year, Ms. Goldman has used profanity in the presence of children and has been aggressive toward me in the classroom and to staff in bus duty line and in the front office, among other things. Given her documented escalated aggressive behavior on campus, is there any protocol that would bar Ms. Goldman from the classroom, remove her from the volunteer list/room mom list, or prohibit her from campus due to her escalated behavior?

I do not currently feel safe working with this family due to the incident yesterday. I am not only worried about my safety and the other staff in the room, but also, more importantly, about the safety of my students. Since Ms. Goldman said it "must be someone in this room," I worry that the other staff who work in our classroom, or also the administrative office, will be confronted just as I was.

As of now, we do not have a follow-up meeting scheduled, but I would like to schedule one to better understand our campus safety policies for situations like this.

Thank you, and please keep me updated,
